STEVE'S BIO

Steve's interest in wine began as a child watching his grandfather make wine in their cellars and always having grapes growing in the back yard. Being raised in an Italian family, wine was always at the dinner table as the accompaniment to any and all dishes. It was not until Steve was thinking of a career path that he realized he could make a living working in the wine business.

A trip to Italy ensured the family winemaking bug would come alive. Pinot noir was always a favorite to drink, since it had many different "lives" and complimented a broad range of foods. A few classes here and there, a stint working at Kenwood Vineyards, Buena Vista Winery and Gary Farrell Winery, the love of the land, outdoors and the opportunity to be a player in a small family owned Pinot Noir producer was all that was needed to bring the desire to sell and showcase these exquisite Pinot Noirs true to their terroir.
